

KINDERCLUB'S TEACHING STAFF

Leena Chung will start this year as our Lead Teacher at Kinderclub. She has worked as a teacher with the Town of Windsor preschool program since 2010. She has a B.A. in photojournalism, art photography, and literature from the University of Missouri-Columbia, and four years of graduate studies at University of Joensuu in Finland. She worked as a photojournalist with various newspapers before becoming a mother. Leena has lived in Windsor for 20 years with her husband and two children. Both of her children attended Kinderclub, and she feels privileged to be a part of this great program as a teacher now. "I love working with preschool-aged children; they are funny, caring, and eager to learn!"

Amy Girimonte grew up in West Sonoma County. She attended California State University at Chico where she received her B.A. in social science with a minor in Spanish. Over the years, she had worked in local elementary schools as a teaching and reading assistant. Amy is excited to be able to work with and be a part of the amazing development that takes place during the preschool years. She and her husband have called Windsor home for the past 20 years. She feels grateful and privileged to be raising her 2 children in such a wonderful community.

Stephanie Sanchez has been working with the Town of Windsor Preschool staff since 2018. She accepted the assistant teaching position in Kinderclub last school year. She has an Associate Teacher Certificate in Child Development from the Santa Rosa Junior College. Stephanie lives in Santa Rosa with her husband, son, and daughter. She feels privileged to be working for the Town of Windsor Preschool Program and to be part of your children learning experience.
